

What's your AYP IQ? »

How much do you know about AYP? Take this quick quiz—and then read on to learn more about this accountability measure.

(Answer key below.)

- AYP stands for _____.
 - a. Annual Yearly Progress
 - b. A Year of Progression
 - c. Adequate Yearly Progress
- AYP is based on _____ and _____ at elementary, middle and high schools.
 - a. Math and science
 - b. English language arts and math
 - c. Science and social studies
- Besides test scores from the Michigan Educational Assessment Program, what other factors decide if a school has made sufficient progress?
 - a. The percentage of students tested
 - b. Attendance rates in elementary and middle schools
 - c. Graduation rates in high schools
 - d. All of the above
- It's not enough for schools and districts to show overall improvement; certain subgroups of students must also show progress. In Michigan, how many students constitute a subgroup?
 - a. 100
 - b. 50
 - c. 30
- Only schools that receive Title 1 funds are subject to sanctions.
 - a. True
 - b. False
- Some schools that don't improve could have to _____.
 - a. Allow students to transfer to other schools
 - b. Provide or pay for special tutoring
 - c. Restructure
 - d. All of the above
- A school that doesn't make AYP for three years must continue to implement its revised school improvement plan and spend at least _____ percent of its Title 1 funds on professional development to address the academic problems that caused it to be identified.
 - a. 1
 - b. 5
 - c. 10
- A school that is identified for school improvement, corrective action or restructuring must make AYP for _____ consecutive years before it is no longer identified or subject to sanctions.
 - a. 1
 - b. 2
 - c. 5
- Employees cannot collectively bargain issues related to AYP or No Child Left Behind (NCLB).
 - a. True
 - b. False

Answers: 1, c, 2, b, 3, d, 4, c, 5, a, 6, d, 7, c, 8, b, 9, b.

Need help deciphering what your school or district is doing to improve academic achievement? Call MEA's Professional Development and Human Rights Department at 800-292-1934. Ask for consultant Bob Harris.